

African Journal Part 10
August 13, 2011

Yahoooooo, we got our tank filled up with water today. We used most of the last two days getting everything ready for it to be delivered and it finally arrived. It was a mad house at that point as those delivering were in a hurry to be off to take water to someone else. We filled the tank with 2000 liters and then several containers as well as the washing machine.

Truck at the neighbors house, just over our wall.

Ed and Mazambi at the tank.

We had to have the truck come into the neighbors drive way so they could get close enough to reach our tank, so we gave them about 400-500 liters. Everyone was very happy and we are praising God for the answer to prayer. We are continuing to fill water jugs and haul them back to the house so we do not have to use up what is in the container too fast. The cost isn't so bad but just getting it here is a real hassle.

Thanks again for your prayers. God bless, Ed and Brenda

Link to "Outside the Budget Special Needs" found on our section of the ACM International Web Site
http://acminternational.com/missionaries/buell/outside_the_budget_special_needs.pdf#zoom=100