

Merry Christmas!

Merry Christmas from Kenya!

We hope you all had a great Christmas! Our first Christmas in Africa was a fun one. We celebrated in the morning with our families via Skype and then headed over to Ahadi for the day. Although we dreamed of a white Christmas, we celebrated with a choma (BBQ), worship and games. The boys had huge smiles on their faces all day long!

Thanks be to God for his indefinable gift!

Mbuzi and Kuku Feast

As a Christmas gift, Tyler's parents bought the boys a goat and 8 chickens to eat (roughly 50lbs of meat) for Christmas dinner. So the boys got up early to start cooking. They were anxious to eat!

Along with the meat, we had chips (french fries), chapatis (tortillas) and kachumbari (like pico de gallo) with chocolate cake and cookies for dessert. It was a feast like no other!

Happy New Year!

A day of fun

Once the feast was over we sang Christmas carols, had communion and watched the movie The Nativity. Afterwards, Aimee and Mim organized a white elephant game for the boys. It was fun to watch their reactions as they opened what they thought would be a great gift. The bigger the box is the better the gift is, right?

After the games the boys opened their presents. It was such a blessing to see the joy in their faces. They deserved a great Christmas day!

*Glory to God in the highest,
and on earth peace to men on whom his favor rests.*

Thank you so much!!

We would just like to say thank you for your support!
It is still somewhat surreal to think that we are living in Africa following the call that God has placed on our lives. We are so blessed with family and friends like you who help make that possible.

Please remember us as you consider year end gifts. As long as checks are dated 2011 your gift is deductible for 2011 and a receipt will be sent to you.

Thank you so much for all of your prayers and support!

We always thank God for all of YOU, mentioning you in our prayers. We continually remember before our God and Father your work produced by faith, your labor prompted by love, and your endurance inspired by hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.
